Art Unit: 1614

Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

It is not clear if a compound or composition is claimed. The words “containing” and “represented” are confusing as to what else the composition requires. Amending the claim to recite “A composition...having as an active ingredient a compound with Chemical Formula (1)...” will overcome these rejections.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over MEDLINE AN 92210058.

The reference (abstract) discloses the instant compound and its use in a composition. The claim appears to differ over the reference in reciting an intended use. However, intended use has no patentability in a compound or composition claim.

Ogihara et al was not considered since no English language translation was provided.
